George Boardofreview Hay's "official organ" has published the following general orders to the Republicans of Coshocton county:

"Let Republicans of every township turn out to select delegates to the county convention who will represent Republicans and not factionists."

"Republicans in the coming county convention will draw the line at any peace taffy from Mr. Meek or any other stockholder or ally of The Age."

The old-line Republicans of Coshocton county who have stood by the party through sunshine and storm for many years, don't need any dictation of this sort. They are amply able to decide such matters for themselves.

They do say that Billy Bryan is figuring on plans and specifications for a new political party. Sealed proposals will be received at the Nebraska barn. The right to reject any and all bids not bearing the brand "W. J.B." is reserved. "G. C.," "D. B. H." or "T. J." need not bid.

If Aguinaldo should arrive in time to take part in the Democratic campaign, the managers would better keep him out of the staked plains of the South. They might make a mistake down there.

When will Col. Bryan and Grover Cleveland quit regarding each other as a prodigal? The Democratic party would probably furnish a good sized barbecue if both were to stay away.

That African ape in whose honor Mr. and Mrs. Lehr gave a dinner in Newport a week or so ago must have felt awfully bored at the intellectual vacuity around the festal board.

Perhaps Colonel Bryan could manage to hit the 1904 campaign hard enough to get Aguinaldo to come over and place him for the Presidential stakes.

Why not send Harry Tracy to the U. S. senate? Since Bailey and Tillman have broken in, a Tracy is needed to assist the sergeant-at-arms.

Henry Watterson seems to be the Don Quixote of the press. At least he is taking a good many falls out of the Nebraska windmill.

Whenever a European potentate launches with J. Pierpont Morgan he takes particular pains to first chain down his crown.

Henry Watterson's opinion of Grover Cleveland seems to be one of the "to be continued in our next" kind.

We would like to compare directories of Democrats gotten out by Bryan and Hill.

July snows and August thaws play the deil with Panamas.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

Addresses the New Jersey Troops. Sincere Welcome.

Seagirt, N. J., July 25. — A hearty welcome was accorded to President Roosevelt on his visit here. From the time he landed on New Jersey soil at the Atlantic Highlands pier until he left in his launch for the war yacht Mayflower he was the recipient of a continuous ovation. The president on invitation of Governor Franklin Murphy, extended through Senator Kean visited the encampment of the Second brigade of the national guard of the state at Seagirt. Ten thousand people greeted the presidential party at the station. President Roosevelt and other distinguished guests were escorted in carriages to the governor's cottage, adjoining the military camp, less than half a mile from the station. As he arrived at the cottage a president's salute of 21 guns were fired. The president made an appropriate address to the troops.

Acrimonious Debate.

London, July 25.—The debate on the Irish estimates in the house of commons was continued acrimoniously. John Dillon, Irish Nationalist, declaring that the speech of the chief secretary for Ireland, Mr. Wyndham, amounted to a declaration of war against the Irish people. The chief secretary, he said, had enforced the stringent coercion act without a shadow of justification. Mr. Dillon reviewed the case of Sergeant Sheridan and blamed the government for failing to prosecute him. Thomas Healy (Irish Nationalist), who followed, demanded Sheridan's extradition from the United States, though he added he did not think the crown could convict him with an Irish jury. H. H. Asquith (Liberal), the former home secretary, supported the demand for Sheridan's extradition.

King Edward's Condition.

London, July 25.—A feeling of uneasiness is entertained with regard to King Edward's condition, even leading members of the cabinet displaying nervousness lest his majesty should be unable to fulfill his duties in the coronation ceremony. This was due to the statement of the doctors that the king is not yet allowed to walk, and to the somewhat natural apprehension that the severe strain of a fortnight hence will prove too dangerous an undertaking. There was not the slightest whisper that the king is worse than the bulletins indicate. The only fear was that the doctors had been possibly too optimistic in setting the date of the coronation on Aug. 9.

Sultan Held as Hostage.

Manila, July 25.—Captain J. J. Pershing of the Fifteenth cavalry, who is in command of the Llano (Mindanao) expedition, has arrested the sultan of Binadayan as a hostage for the delivery to him of the Moros who on June 23 attacked two Americans. The sultan ordered his followers to produce the guilty Moros. One of the guilty men was brought into the camp of the Americans. He was horribly mutilated. Before dying he confessed having participated in the ambush of the Americans. Tongi, the leader of the attack, has fortified his house and defies the sultan of Binadayan's followers to capture him.

Convalescence Expected.

New York, July 25.—Mrs. Cary Sanger, wife of the assistant secretary of war, who was operated on Wednesday at the New York hospital for appendicitis, was reported to be resting easily and improving to such an extent that her early convalescence is expected.

The Best Liniment For Strains.

Mr. F. H. Wells, the merchant at Deer Park, Long Island, N. Y., says: "I always recommend Chamberlain's Pain balm as the best liniment for strains. I used it last winter for a severe lameness in the side resulting from a strain, and was greatly pleased with the quick relief and cure it effected." For sale by C. E. Anderson—No 2 Forbes block.

ROOSEVELT RUSTICATING.

The President Dons Old Clothes and Revels In Outing Pleasures.

The president is enjoying his vacation at Oyster Bay, N. Y., as much as [illegible] says William E. Curtis in the Chicago Record-Herald. He is wearing his old clothes. His [illegible] is a negligee suit [illegible] shoes and a well worn [illegible] the evening [illegible]. He is always surrounded by a lot of children. No matter what he is doing or where he is going, they are with him. I believe that he enjoys their company better than if they were his own. There are six of his own to begin with and eleven nephews and nieces who live in the immediate neighborhood of Sagamore Hill and answer to the name of Roosevelt. The eldest is about eighteen and the youngest six. Besides these the neighbors' children are equally numerous and are usually on hand whenever anything interesting is going on. Every youngster has his pony and his gun, and it is a wonder they do not shoot their own heads off, but the president has his band of rough riders under excellent discipline. "Uncle Teddy" has taught them how to handle firearms so that they are as careful as old hunters.

The [illegible] president of the United States at the head of this young band of [illegible] on their way to the woods or to the [illegible] is worth coming a long way and the manner in which he treats them is worth a study. He does not make pets of his children, but he treats them as equals and as rational and responsible beings and is quite as considerate of their feelings as if they were influential politicians. For instance, the other day he was sitting in his library talking Cuban reciprocity with a friend when a gang of boys in their shirt sleeves entered, and one of them said respectfully:

"Uncle Teddy, it's after 4."

"By Jove!" he exclaimed, "so it is; why didn't you call me sooner? One of you boys get my rifle." Then, turning to his guest, he said: "I must ask you to excuse me. We will have this talk out some other time. I promised the boys I'd go shooting with them after 4 o'clock, and I never keep boys waiting. It's a hard trial for a boy to wait."

And off he rushed with a crowd of youngsters around him, all talking at the same time, and it was Uncle Teddy this and Uncle Teddy that until they were out of hearing. That is his idea of having a good time.

Novel Use For Missionaries.

A new phase of the missionary question is coming to the front, says the North China Herald. In the past the difficulty in this region (Fuchau) has been to find any one willing to identify himself with the hated western religion. But now from every side come requests from a large number of men asking to have a "teacher" sent to their town, with the offer of a chapel free. The requests are, without exception, made in the hope of getting the foreigner, or at least the "church," to take up their law cases.

Streets of Gold.

The streets of Ballarat, the famous Australian golden city, if not precisely paved with the precious metal, offer chances of treasure from time to time, says the Pall Mall Gazette. A scavenger, sweeping one of the street channels recently, found a pretty little nugget weighing an ounce. It was probably brought from one of the mines in the gravel used for the top dressing of the road.

GOVERNMENT FOOD TESTS.

Scientists to Study Effect of Preservatives on Human Subjects.

When Dr. W. H. Wiley, chief of the bureau of animal industry, gets back to the United States from Europe, whither he sailed the other day, the United States government will establish a free table for people who are willing to have their stomachs experimented with.

The purpose is to conduct experiments to determine whether the foreign substances added to food products are detrimental to the health of man. While Dr. Wiley is in Europe the civil service commission will hold examinations and prepare an eligible list of expert physiological chemists to aid him in the work. Congress appropriated $10,000 for it. After that healthy young men who are willing to eat free food that may or may not have deleterious ingredients will be in demand.

If Dr. Wiley can get permission to experiment on college students, they will be his preference. He wants to get some college to let him set up a "training table." Each student who eats at this table is to give his word of honor not to eat anything except what he gets at the government restaurant. The first ten days or so will then be devoted to feeding the subjects a good healthful quantity of the ordinary foods with no object in view but to get them in a perfectly normal condition.

Then the effect of a certain chemical —borax, for instance—will be tried. After the effect of this has been noted, another preservative chemical in common use will be taken up; then a coloring substance, etc., until the gamut of color and preservative has been run and the bureau has obtained data enough on which to base correct conclusions.

A system similar to this is to be tried in the United States army, when new rations will be tested.

Millers and Henderson.

Sioux City, Ia., July 25.—There is no concerted action on the part of the National Millers' Federation to defeat Speaker Henderson in his race for re-election to congress. This is the positive statement made by H. S. Kennedy, secretary of the National Millers' Federation. "Whatever the millers may feel individually about the matter, there is no concerted movement on the part of the national federation to get the speaker's scalp. The national federation does not go into politics at all. Its object is to look after the milling interests of the country and endeavor to secure proper treatment in the way of export and import duties."

Secretary Moody Departs.

Washington, July 25. — Secretary Moody left Washington and will not return until Sept. 1. He will go from here direct to Oyster Bay and will remain at Sagamore Hill over Sunday. On Monday he will go to Salem, and later he will spend a week or 10 days cruising on the Dolphin with the North Atlantic fleet.

Bishop Barnwell.

Selma, Ala., July 25.—Rt. Rev. R. W. Barnwell, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Alabama, died here as the result of a recent attack of appendicitis. Bishop Barnwell was taken sick a few days ago and underwent an operation. Symptoms after the operation seemed to favor Dr. Barnwell's recovery, but later complications caused his death.

Played Out.

That "played out"—"done up" feeling makes life miserable for every sufferer from Kidney ills, backaches, headaches and urinary troubles, painful and annoying.

Doan's Kidney Pills

bring new life and activity, remove the pain and cure the cause, from common backache to dangerous diabetes.

Mr. L. D. Hazzard, of 1130 Lane street, Hamilton, O., paper hanger, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills removed the lameness and aching from my back and strengthened my kidneys. I procured them from J. C. Schwartz's drug store, and since taking the treatment the annoyance from the kidneys has disappeared, and the attacks of backache, which originated from a strain I received, were bandished. Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney remedy I ever used, and I have no hesitancy in recommending them to others."

For sale by all druggists; 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Dinner to Pierpont Morgan.

London, July 25.—J. Pierpont Morgan was the guest of honor at a remarkable dinner given in the house of commons by Archibald White Maconochie, member for the east division of Aberdeenshire. On one side of the host sat Mr. Morgan and on the other Premier Balfour. The guests included United States Ambassador Joseph H. Choate, William St. John Brodrick, secretary of state for war, and other notables.

Company Enjoined.

Helena, Mon., July 25.—On the application of the city Judge H. C. Smith of the district court issued a temporary injunction restraining the Helena Waterworks company from turning off the water for fire and sewerage purposes. The company had served notice that unless its demand for $1,500 for June was paid it would shut off the water. The order of the court was made returnable July 30.

A Few Words About a 50c Corset

That W're Selling For

25c

You can get summer corsets elsewhere for 25c—corsets that were made to sell at that price. These weren't. They were meant to be sold for 50c. Worth every bit of it too. In every particular they're a 50c corset. When we say we're not making a cent on them we're simply stating a positive fact. Why don't we charge more then?

Because they're a SUMMER corset.

And summer goods must be sold right now if at all At 50c some of these corsets would probably remain in the store and have to be carried over to another season. That's not our way. We've put a 25c price on these in order to rush them right off our hands. Pretty good corset opportunity for you don't you think?

We've some other corsets—69c ones—that we're hurrying off at 48c.

Wrappers Just arrived. Some striking patterns. The prices we've put on them are 25 to 50 per cent under the usual figures.

Will Not Be Stopped.

New York, July 25.—Late developments indicate that the tremendous improvements planned in the transit facilities for the city will not be held up by the refusal of the board of aldermen to approve the Pennsylvania tunnel franchise or halted by the struggle between the Rapid Transit Subway Construction company and the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company for the right to build the Brooklyn tunnel subway. Mutual concessions will, it is believed, pave the way in the immediate future for the carrying out of all the plans. Work has been started on the New Jersey end of the Pennsylvania tunnel under the North river.

Castro's Proclamation.

Washington, July 25.—The text of a ringing proclamation issued on July 5, the independence day of Venezuela, by President Castro, has just been received in Washington. The proclamation was published on the eve of the president's departure from the "Yellow House" at Caracas, to lead his army in the field, and it is a stirring appeal to his countrymen to support him in his purpose to crush the anti-Castro force, which has grown so formidable recently.

Big Fire at Albany.

Albany, July 25.—The buildings occupied by the Wheeler Furniture and Storage company, Lang stamp works, Albany Rubber Tire company and the Albany Cement company, on Beaver street, were entirely destroyed by fire, and the Columbia hotel was damaged. Two firemen were crushed by falling walls.

Shot His Man.

Parkersburg, W. Va., July 25.—Ogden Eagle shot and fatally wounded Frank Hendricks, whom he accused of tripping him. It is stated that Eagle was drinking and went home for his revolver with which to shoot Hendricks.

BAD WRECKS IN OHIO

Two Disasters on the Rail Result In Loss of Life.

MANY PERSONS ARE BADLY HURT.

Five People Killed Outright When the Panhandle Limited Was Wrecked and Burned Near Xenia—Details of the Accident on the Ohio and Little Kanawha.

Dayton, O., July 25.—Three passengers were burned to death in a Pullman sleeper; Engineer Clark of Xenia was burned to a crisp; his fireman, a Cincinnati man, was horribly mangled, and a number of other persons were injured in the wrecking of the Panhandle limited, from St. Louis eastbound to New York, at Trebein's station, a way stop a short distance from Xenia. Train No. 2 was flying eastward at limited speed when the engine struck a loaded coal car which in the darkness had escaped from the siding at Xenia and had run down grade to the danger point. The engine struck it going at full speed, and was turned over with Engineer Clark underneath. The postal car, combination car and day coach, impelled by the heavy sleepers behind, piled over the engine. Two Pullmans followed and were piled across the track at right angles. A gas tank under one of the cars exploded, setting fire to the wreck, and the postal car, the coaches and two sleepers were utterly destroyed. Cries for help could be heard coming from one of the Pullmans, and the helpless onlookers were compelled to see two women and one man burned to death before their eyes, unable to lend any aid on account of the fierceness of the flames.

At scene of wreck the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton and Panhandle parallel, and both were torn up for a distance of 50 yards, blocking traffic.

James McFadden and Fred Carpenter of Indianapolis are among the injured. Neither was fatally hurt. Immediately after the wreck those who were able walked into Xenia, three miles away, and the injured were later conveyed to hotels at that place. A special train was made up at Columbus and went to the scene of the wreck to convey the dead and injured to that city. The name of the fireman killed is Dwyer, and his home is in Cincinnati.

OVER A TRESTLE

Plunged a Coach With Thirty People. Two Dead, Others Injured.

McConnelsville, O., July 25. — At Douda, near this city, the northbound passenger train on the Ohio and Little Kanawha railway was passing over the trestle when the rear coach turned over twice in its descent and fell 40 feet. It is stated that the trestle had been weakened by the recent flood. The train was going at the ordinary speed over the trestle when the rear coach fell, and there was no damage to any part of the train except to the coach which fell, and it was mashed into splinters. There were 30 passengers in the coach, nearly all of them from local points along the Muskingum valley, as the train was bound from Marietta to Zanesville. Relief was promptly sent from this city and from Malta, which is on the opposite side of the Muskingum river from McConnelsville.

The dead: Miss Gertrude Sherwood, Patten's Mills, O.; A. J. Rathbun, prominent oil man, Columbus. The injured are: Edward J. Herman, Zanesville, cut about head; William N. Warner, Zanesville, fracture of the arm and shoulder; Chester Harris, Zanesville, bruised about head and body; Charles Bailey, Marietta, ribs broken, injured internally, condition very serious; Harry Bailey, Marietta, face, neck and shoulders bruised; Mrs. H. R. Postal, Columbus, bruised about shoulders, severe scalp wound; Howard B. Speer, Marietta, struck on head, left forearm broken; Miss Martha Brown, Parkersburg, W. Va., head and face bruised; Mrs. Lizzie Wright, Sharpsburg, O., head and face and ankle injured; Carl Wright, Sharpsburg, O., injured about head and internally; William Duffy, Higginsport, O., side bruised; William S. Lightiser, Meigsville, O., skull crushed, condition very serious; Miss Elsie Rosier, Marietta, O., face and side bruised; Daniel Gillespie, Malta, O., head and neck bruised; C. E. Myers, Chicago, side bruised, wrist broken and ankle sprained; Norma Rathbun, Columbus, head bruised; Mabel Rathbun, Columbus, slightly bruised about head and shoulders; Miss Lucy Brigham, Marietta, bruised about head, shoulders and side; Dr J. Flory, Elgin, Ills., badly injured about hips; Robert James, Pennsville, O., scalp wound and hurt internally; John O'Neill, Marietta, face bruised; A. S. Tilden, Garrettsville, O., bruised about face and body; Edward Smith, Malta, O., dangerously injured internally.

A summary of the casualties shows two killed, three fatally, 18 seriously and six slightly injured. The only one in the coach that entirely escaped injury was a little son of Mrs. Martha Brown. None of the train crew were in the coach that fell. They joined the passengers in the other coaches in saying the sight was more horrifying than can be described. When the train was stopped at the other end of the trestle all rushed to the rescue, the trainmen leading the way down the cliff.

GAS TANK EXPLODED.

Passenger Train on the Rock Island Badly Wrecked.

Omaha, July 25.—Passenger train No. 5, westbound, on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, was wrecked three miles west of South Omaha. The fireman, Victor Erickson of Fairbury, Neb., was killed, the engineer perhaps fatally hurt and two express messengers badly bruised. The train was known as the Chicago-Denver flyer, and carried beside baggage and express cars two coaches, four sleepers and a diner. Shortly after the train came to a stop the passengers rushed out of the cars, just in time to avoid an explosion of the gas tanks. None of the passengers were injured beyond a severe shaking up.

Train Thrown From Track.

Middletown, N. Y., July 25.—A train on the Ellenville branch of the Ontario and Western railroad was thrown from the track near Spring Glen while rounding a curve, owing to a washout. The engine, a passenger coach and a combination car left the track. Six passengers in the latter car were somewhat injured, but none seriously.

Army Officers Persecuted.

London, July 25.—Details of the remarkable case of persecution by brother officers of a young lieutenant of the Second Life Guards at Windsor, a regiment of which King Edward is colonel-in-chief, show that in this crack cavalry organization, like many others, the officers are intolerant of the presence of any one who takes his profession seriously. Second Lieutenant C. D. Gregson, who secured a commission Feb. 15, 1902, was known to be a hard worker, efficient and popular with his men. On Monday night a number of officers of the regiment chased Lieutenant Gregson out of his quarters, hunted him through the barracks with whips, at the same time using foul language; ducked him in a horse trough until he was half dead, and subsequently wrecked his quarters and destroyed his entire kit. The only explanation for this treatment is that Lieutenant Gregson is socially undesirable.

Young People's Christian Union.

Tacoma, Wash., July 25.—The day in the convention of the Young People's Christian union was largely devoted to the junior society. The secretary's report was followed by a junior conference, led by Miss Lillian Robertson of Spokane. The general work of the young people was reviewed by General Secretary E. H. Hanna, Jr. Societies to the number of 730 are represented, 144 being under the Christian Endeavor organization and 568 under the constitution of the Christian union. The membership was reported as 23,892; total contributions, $23,618. The synod of the Nile reports 1,007 members, the synod of Punjab 124 members. A conference on the methods in young people's work was conducted by J. Marion Prush of Dayton, O. It has been decided that hereafter the convention will hold biennial instead of annual meetings. The place will be selected by the proper committee.

DISCUSSED HARMONY

Bryan, Carmack and Other Orators In New England.

GUESTS AT A DEMOCRATIC SPREAD.

Trusts, the Tariff, the Philippines and Reorganization [illegible] of the Speakers at the Dinner on Nantasket Beach—Summary of the Addresses Made.

Boston, July 25.—Hon. William J. Bryan of Nebraska, Edward M. Shepard of New York and Senator Edward Carmack of Tennessee were the orators at the "harmony" meeting arranged by the New England Democratic league. The affair was held at Nantasket beach and 4,000 persons attended. Mayor Collins of Boston presided.

Mr. Bryan was greeted with applause when he arose to speak on "The Basis of Harmony." In part he said:

To attempt to patch up an apparent harmony between those who are not in sympathy with Democratic purposes is not only a waste of time, but would prove disastrous. The men who deserted the party in 1896 may be divided into classes. Those who left because they understood the issue presented, and those who left because they did not understand the real nature of the contest. Until the former are completely changed in their sympathies they can not return to the party without injuring it.

The great founder of the Democratic party, whose profound philosophy sounded all the depths of human nature and measured the height and breadth of human government, not long before the end of his eventful life, said in the letter to Mr. Lee, that there were but two permanent parties, the aristocratic and the democratic; that these two parties existed in every country, and that where there was freedom to think, speak and write, these parties would become apparent. With the aristocratic party he classed "those who fear and distrust the people and wish to draw all power from them into the hands of the higher classes." With the democratic party he classed "those who identify themselves with the people, have confidence in them, cherish and consider them as the most honest and safe, though not the most wise, depository of the public interests." Every well informed student of history will recognize this distinction. In every community you can draw a line separating the aristocrat from the democrat.

Each man decides issues for himself. In 1900 we declared the question of imperialism paramount and I believe it was the most important of the hour. Yet men voted the Republican ticket rather than see the money system partly attacked by the success of a man who believed it to be bad. They say the trust question is important. I agree with them in this, but I don't believe you can settle it by putting everything on the free list that the trusts make. You prevent extortion by this but it will not kill the trusts. I believe the United States had the right to say through congress that a corporation organized in any state can stay in that state, but shall not go outside without showing that it is doing lawful business and not acting as a highwayman. I believe our party must go out and show the people what is wrong in the tariff question, in the money question, in the trust question. Then we must also insist that while the war in the Philippines has placed us in possession of the islands, that possession continues wrongfully while it continued without the consent of the governed. We should do in the Philippines as we have at last done in Cuba.

I believe the great majority of those who left the Democratic party in 1896, and in 1900 were at heart as honest as any who remained. They believed the election of the Democratic ticket would have injured the country. Although I went down to defeat because of this I have never uttered a single breath against any man who honestly left the party because of the interest in his country. I do not mean to say that those who left the party because they knew the issue are bad men. I hope to bring back every one of those who did not understand the struggle, and I hope we can bring in multitudes of Republicans who can see that our party stands for the doctrine of human rights and free government.

Senator Carmack among other things said: "We have but to look to the beginning of our war with Spain to see how far we have wandered from our ideals. Our war in Cuba was for liberty and humanity. Our war in the Philippines is for subjugation and spoils. The first war was blessed of heaven and approved by the enlightened judgment of mankind. The second war is a crime against liberty, and the curse of God is upon it." The speaker asked if the American people had forgotten their own declaration of independence. "Have they," he continued, "forgotten all the traditions of the republic? Have they lost all sympathy with the cause of freedom? I do not believe it. I believe that the hour of returning reason is fast coming, if it has not come."

In answer to the theory that "we must have colonies in order to have trade," Senator Carmack said that "without colonies we have become the greatest industrial nation of the whole world." As part of an elaborate defense of this hypothesis, the senator said the fact was "notorious that the United States and Germany, the two great non-colonial nations, are rapidly passing the two great colonial nations and will soon have all to themselves the struggle for the commercial supremacy of the world."

OHIO OLIO.

Happenings in the Big Buckeye State. Lone Robber From Ohio.

Greenfield, Ind., July 25.—Lying on a cot in his cell in the jail in this city and suffering from gunshot wounds inflicted by his captors, the lone robber who attempted to hold up the Fortville bank at Fortville has confessed to a fellow prisoner that he is a plumber, his name is C. A. Hall, and that his home is at Marion, O. When he was questioned by the officers who brought him to this city for safety, Hall said he was too sick to talk, but he afterward revealed his identity and said he had been employed at Indianapolis. Hall is not fatally wounded.

Politician Missing.

Caldwell, O., July 25.—Jefferson W. Bigley, recently publisher of the Caldwell Press, and a prominent politician, is missing. There is much excitement over the discovery of forged notes signed by his father and others, all of whom deny their signatures. These notes aggregate $16,000. Mortgages of $2,200, signed by Mrs. Bigley and others, have also turned up, and the parties deny their signatures. Officers are now hunting Bigley on suits that have been entered for the recovery of monies secured on the alleged forged notes and mortgages.

Ate Poisonous Plants.

Canal Dover, O., July 25.—Joseph Yender and Mrs. Charlotte Fondrien, both of Wainwright, a small village near here, are dead as the result of eating poisonous plants which they mistook for mushrooms.

Fitz and Jeffries.

San Francisco, July 25.—The day of the heavyweight championship fight finds both of the principals asserting that they are in prime condition. Each one is also equally confident of getting the decision. Neither sees how he can lose. Both Jeffries and Fitzsimmons spent the day quietly, cutting out all work.

"F O R C E"

These big letters represent what improper food is to health and happiness, for the man with a growling stomach cannot be merry.

"FORCE" is the foe of indigestion. It is composed of the whole of the wheat—each kernel of which contains every element necessary to the proper nourishment and regulation of each organ of the body—blended with barley malt, the best natural tonic. In the process of manufacture both the wheat and the malt undergo the same chemical changes as are brought about during the first stage of digestion in the healthy stomach "FORCE," therefore, saves the stomach much hard work, but still gives it sufficient exercise to keep it in first-class condition

That's why "FORCE" is the foe to indigestion.
